Dear Mr Brown,

I am writing to you in your capacity as Special Reviewer on Global Finance and Cooperation regarding a matter of public interest connected to the financial relationship between Andrew Mountbatten-Windsor and Kenes Rakishev.

Since February 2024, I have made repeated submissions to the courts, the Attorney General, the Lord Chancellor's office, the Justice Committee of the House of Commons, and the Metropolitan Police Service. The matters raised remain substantively unanswered, including correspondence to the recipients in copy to this email.

This email concerns the suppression of my autism and PTSD from the judicial record. A further email will address Mr Mountbatten-Windsor's financial relationship with Mr Rakishev, related financial structures and special purpose vehicles, and the SEC regulatory environment.

I am a litigant in person with documented autism, diagnosed by the NHS Central London Adult Autism Service in June 2025, and chronic PTSD, documented by Professor Gerald Libby FRCP FRCPsych, my treating clinician since 2011.

The attached Public Record Statement of 22 May 2026 identifies a four-level mechanism.

- First, suppression: the transcript of the final hearing in BV20D01752 records 25 oral references to autism and PTSD, 13 made by the trial judge himself. The published judgment of 18 April 2024, DH v RH (No. 3) [2024] EWFC 79, is 111 paragraphs and 19,620 words long. It contains zero reference to autism, PTSD, disability, vulnerability, FPR Part 3A, or participation measures.

- Second, unsupported characterisation: paragraph 64 of that judgment records an "obsession" finding which I say is not traceable to oral evidence, the trial bundle, or counsel's submissions.
- Third, formal consequence: paragraph 64 became the analytical premise for the £800,000 add-back and the £255,654.50 indemnity costs subsequently imposed by DH v RH (No. 4) [2024] EWFC 114, producing a fixed financial consequence of approximately £1,055,654.50.
- Fourth, continuing publication: both judgments remain published in the National Archives and continue to circulate as authoritative judicial records.

The pattern has now been repeated across three courts and six judges over two years. Across those decisions, the disability documented in 14 medical records from 10 clinicians across three jurisdictions, spanning April 2013 to April 2026, is absent from the text, addressed only procedurally, or quoted without substantive engagement.

On 17 April 2026, the Metropolitan Police made a section 42 Care Act 2014 safeguarding referral identifying me as an adult at risk on a police-originated record.

The harm is documented, continuing, and severe. Prolonged exposure to institutional non-engagement is reflected in the clinical record set out in the Medical Evidence Index (attached). I do not ask you to take a position on the litigation. I write to place the documentary record before you.

Yours sincerely,

Nadia Zahmoul
