PART 1A — THE ADMINISTRATIVE VOID: THE COMMON FACTOR ACROSS ALL PROCEEDINGS

This annex concerns criminal evidence. But before setting out the facts, it is necessary to identify the structural condition that made the loss of that evidence possible — and that connects this referral to parallel proceedings in four separate jurisdictions.

That condition is the administrative void: at every critical point in the history of these proceedings, there is a complete absence of judicial determination. Nothing was decided. No order was made. No reasons were given. No record exists.

This is not judicial silence. Judicial silence would mean a judge considered the matter and declined to act. That did not happen. The matters were never placed before a judge at all. They were absorbed into an administrative system that did not log them, did not escalate them, did not safeguard them — and when challenged, misclassified its own failures as protected judicial acts in order to avoid scrutiny.

The Judicial Review proceedings (AC-2025-LON-004293) have established this pattern across seven grounds of challenge. The grounds confirm explicitly (Ground 6, paragraph 79): 'The failure to safeguard, preserve, and review the Imerman devices is not a judicial act. It is an administrative failure in the operation of court systems and evidence management.' And (paragraph 49): 'No judge directed that the devices be ignored or that the evidence be forgotten; the omission lies entirely in HMCTS/Moj's operational sphere.'

The same void appears in every jurisdiction:

Proceeding	Critical Event	Judicial Determination?
BV20D01752 — Family Division	Fate of Imerman devices (2021-2025). Criminal evidence submissions (2024-2025). Tampering attempt Feb 2022.	NONE. No order. No forensic review directed. No safeguarding action.
AC-2025-LON-004293 — Administrative Court	Three criminal transmissions unlogged. Part 3A measures withdrawn. PAP ignored. HMCTS claimed all matters judicial.	NONE. Administrative failures misclassified as judicial acts. JR proceedings now challenge this.
CA-2024-001342 — Court of Appeal	Paper refusal 4 August 2025. Did not address disability, criminal evidence, or Part 3A.	Paper only. No oral hearing. No engagement with criminal evidence substance.
BL-2024-001217 — Chancery Division	Enforcement of debt from financial remedy proceedings infected by non-disclosure, perjury, and unreviewed criminal evidence.	Default judgment only. Criminal evidence questions never resolved.

The administrative void is relevant to this police referral for three reasons. First: there is no judicial order blocking law enforcement access to the devices or the evidence. No judge decided the devices should be released, destroyed, or withheld from investigation. Police face no judicial determination to navigate around. Second: the failure to protect the evidence is administratively attributable — HMCTS and MoJ bear responsibility, not any individual judge. Third: the pattern of non-response across multiple transmissions, multiple institutions, and multiple jurisdictions over four years is itself relevant context for the investigation.

Law enforcement is the only body entirely outside this closed loop. HMCTS refuses complaints as judicial. MoJ disclaims responsibility. Judicial review is the theoretical remedy but is slow, costly, and inaccessible. Police investigation is independent of all of these institutions. Police can act now.

PART 1 — PURPOSE OF THIS ANNEX

This annex is a criminal referral addressed to: (a) the Metropolitan Police Service Serious and Organised Crime Command; (b) the Crown Prosecution Service Special Crime Division; and (c) the National Crime Agency Economic Crime Command.

It concerns two connected matters:

- The physical whereabouts and forensic integrity of two digital devices placed into court-supervised Imerman escrow in April 2021 and never forensically examined — the MacBook Pro and the Ubuntu computer (together, 'the Devices').
- The substance of the criminal evidence those Devices are known to contain, including bookkeeping records of a prostitution enterprise, cryptocurrency money-laundering structures, and BTC transfer data linking multiple individuals.

The Devices have been unexamined for over four years. No chain of custody exists. No judicial order has ever been made about their fate. Their current whereabouts is unknown. This referral requests that police locate, secure, and forensically examine the Devices as a matter of urgency.

All individuals are referred to by initials throughout. No names or personal identifiers appear in this document.

PART 2 — THE DEVICES: HISTORY, ESCROW, AND LOST CHAIN OF CUSTODY

2.1 What the Devices Are

Two digital devices were placed into court-supervised Imerman escrow in the context of financial remedy proceedings (BV20D01752, High Court Family Division):

Item	Detail
Device 1	MacBook Pro laptop computer — sole user: KZ
Device 2	Ubuntu computer (home-built) — described by KZ

	as used by the family
Date placed in escrow	16 April 2021
Collected by	Courier, on behalf of KZ's solicitors (HFC)
Initial custodian	HFC — held as Imerman custodians on behalf of the court
Forensic review completed?	NO — never reviewed by any independent expert
Current whereabouts	UNKNOWN — no record exists
Judicial order governing fate	NONE — Annex 4 custody record confirms six separate events, all recording NO judicial act

2.2 What the Devices Are Known to Contain

From the outset, the Referrer placed HMCTS, the family court, and KZ's legal team on notice that the Devices contained criminal evidence — not merely confidential financial information. The criminal evidence known or believed to be held on the Devices includes:

- Prostitution ledgers and client invoices managed by KZ for OM's enterprise
- Xero bookkeeping and financial reconciliation records of the prostitution business
- Commission payment records for individual sex workers
- BTC wallet addresses, cluster data, and fund-flow records
- Banking and merchant-acquiring structures used to layer illicit proceeds
- Records of cross-border money transfers, including structuring/smurfing instructions
- Records of GL's BTC transfers to OM (see Part 4.4 below)
- KZ's own spreadsheets managing the illicit enterprise accounts
- Records of KZ's transition from fiat to cryptocurrency to conceal the origin of funds

2.3 The Pinocchio Signal Waiver (May 2021)

In May 2021, KZ inadvertently transmitted via Signal a scanned 200-page hard-copy bundle of material extracted from the Devices ('Pinocchio'). This transmission waived all confidentiality in those documents. They are no longer Imerman-protected. The Pinocchio material is therefore available to law enforcement without any Imerman restriction and without requiring a court order.

Pinocchio confirms: from 2018, KZ had sole control and exclusive responsibility for the financial management and bookkeeping of OM's prostitution business. He reconciled accounts using Xero software, made commission payments to sex workers, and devised the transition from fiat currency to cryptocurrency specifically to conceal the origin of funds.

2.4 The Tampering Attempt (25 February 2022)

On 25 February 2022, KZ's solicitors wrote requesting the release of the Ubuntu device from escrow — before any review had taken place. The letter falsely represented that the device contained no valuable information, and included a false account of the device being used by KZ's daughters to learn about Bitcoin Core Nodes.

The Referrer raised a safeguarding alert immediately. HMCTS were informed. No action was taken. The false representation about the Ubuntu device is directly contradicted by the contents of Pinocchio and the bookkeeping records known to exist on the Devices.

INVESTIGATIVE REQUEST 2A — EVIDENCE TAMPERING Police are requested to investigate the 25 February 2022 letter from KZ's solicitors as a potential attempt to interfere with criminal evidence held under court supervision, contrary to the Criminal Justice and Courts Act 2015 and the common law on perverting the course of justice. The false representations made in that letter about the contents of the Ubuntu device should be considered in light of the known contents of Pinocchio.

2.5 Imerman Custody Record: Zero Judicial Acts

Annex 4 to the Judicial Review bundle (AC-2025-LON-004293) sets out a structured chronological table of every key event in the custody history of the Devices, from April 2021 through 2025. The final column — 'Identifiable Judicial Act Determining Custody/Review/Release?' — records the answer at every stage:

Event	Judicial Act?
16 April 2021 — Devices collected	NO judicial act
2022 — Review suspended pending settlement	NO judicial act
22 June 2022 — Review required per Imerman / UL v BK	NO judicial act
2023-2024 — Criminal referrals transmitted	NO judicial act
2024 — Requests for custody clarification	NO judicial act
2025 — Correspondence re. release / status	NO judicial act

No court ever made an order about these Devices. Their entire history is one of administrative neglect, not judicial decision. The failure to safeguard, preserve, and review the Devices is therefore not a protected judicial act — it is an administrative failure for which HMCTS and the Ministry of Justice are accountable.

2.6 Current Whereabouts: Unknown

The current whereabouts of both Devices is unknown. HMCTS's letter of 14 November 2025 — responding to a Stage 3 escalation complaint — does not explain what happened to the Devices. The last known custodian is KZ's solicitors (HFC). There is no chain of custody record.

INVESTIGATIVE REQUEST 2B — LOCATE AND SECURE THE DEVICES Locate both Devices (MacBook Pro and Ubuntu computer) as a matter of urgency. Secure the Devices and prevent any further access, alteration, or disposal pending forensic examination. Interview HFC (last known custodian) to establish the chain of custody from April 2021 to the present day, including any access, copying, or movement of the Devices. Obtain any records held by HFC, HMCTS, or the court regarding the custody, handling, or release of the Devices. Consider whether the failure to maintain chain of custody, combined with the tampering attempt of 25 February 2022, constitutes an offence under the Criminal Justice and Courts Act 2015 s.41 or the common law.

2.7 The UL v BK Obligation and HFC's Documented Refusal

From the moment the devices arrived in escrow, KZ's solicitors (HFC) were under a legal obligation to review them and disclose any admissible and relevant material pursuant to KZ's duty of full and frank disclosure. This obligation derives from UL v BK [2013] EWHC 1735 and was invoked explicitly by NZ's solicitors (Withers) on multiple occasions.

The obligation was not discretionary. It was not subject to cost concerns or litigation tactics. It was a non-negotiable duty owed to the court.

Date	What Was Said	HFC Response
April 2021	Diana Parker (Withers) to HFC: invoked UL v BK from the first week. Requested confirmation that HFC was reviewing and disclosing admissible/relevant material. Three specific questions asked.	No substantive compliance. Review not commenced.
20 May 2021	Diana Parker agreed to suspend review of items 1-3 pending FDR/mediation. NZ's right to require resumption expressly reserved.	Suspension agreed. Review of items 4-5 not requested by either side.
22 June 2022	Katharine Landells (Withers) to Caroline Park (HFC): 'This review is not optional for your client... this review needs to be carried out as a matter of urgency. In so far as any documentation relates to digital assets held by your client, it will need to be provided to an independent expert to	No compliance.

	review.' Cited UL v BK: 'The husband's solicitor, who owes a high duty to the court, will read [the Imerman documents] and disclose those of them that are both admissible and relevant to the wife's claim.'
28 June 2022	Caroline Park (HFC): refused to carry out review. Characterised it as 'a litigation tactic.' Said she would seek HHJ Cope's input. Also falsely claimed the review had already been done by NZ — conflating NZ's original Imerman seizure with HFC's separate obligation to review on behalf of KZ.	Refusal. Misrepresentation of what review had occurred.
29 June 2022	Katharine Landells (Withers): 'The review of the material is not optional. It is required and must now be carried out.'	No compliance.
Never	No review was ever carried out. No independent expert was ever appointed. The devices were never examined.	Total non-compliance throughout.

The significance for police is this: HFC was told explicitly, in writing, on three separate occasions, that the review was legally obligatory. HFC refused each time. The review that was supposed to reveal the criminal evidence — and which would have placed that evidence formally before the court — was blocked by the very solicitors who held the devices. The devices then disappeared from custody without any court order authorising their release.

2.8 The Judicial Review as Parallel Proceeding

The Judicial Review proceedings (AC-2025-LON-004293) are at the permission stage in the Administrative Court (permission refused by Collins Rice J on 11 March 2026 with a TWM designation; the police referral and the criminal evidence safeguarding failures are unaffected by that refusal). They directly concern the administrative failures described in this annex. The draft order sought in the JR requires HMCTS and MoJ to:

- Immediately preserve all Imerman-related evidence and all HMCTS/Moj records relating to receipt, handling, or suppression of the criminal evidence
- Disclose all internal communications, logging records, chain-of-custody data, safeguarding assessments, and case-management notes relating to the Imerman devices (2021-2025) and the criminal evidence submissions (2023-2025)

- Reconstruct the evidence-handling trail, identifying every staff member who handled, received, viewed, or was notified of the material
- Cooperate fully with IRS:CI or other competent law-enforcement authorities in relation to money-laundering, tax, or criminal investigations arising from the Imerman evidence
- Confirm in writing that no material may be withheld from law enforcement without an application to the Administrative Court

Police action and JR relief are complementary and neither blocks the other. The JR draft order expressly contemplates law enforcement cooperation. Police are invited to note the JR proceedings and, if appropriate, to coordinate the timing of any investigative steps with the Administrative Court timetable.

PART 3 — THE CRIMINAL EVIDENCE: SUBSTANCE AND LEGAL FRAMEWORK

3.1 Overview of the Enterprise

The criminal evidence concerns a UK-nexus prostitution enterprise operated by OM, with KZ acting as the financial architect, bookkeeper, and money-laundering facilitator. The enterprise operated primarily in Dubai and elsewhere in the Middle East, with financial flows through the UK, Portugal, and the United States.

KZ's role was not peripheral. Per Pinocchio and the bookkeeping records: KZ had sole control and exclusive responsibility for the financial management of OM's prostitution business from at least 2018. He managed the proceeds, reconciled accounts, paid commissions to individual sex workers, and specifically designed and implemented the shift from fiat currency to cryptocurrency to conceal the origin of the funds.

3.2 Predicate Offences

Provision	Offence
Sexual Offences Act 2003 s.52	Causing or inciting prostitution for gain — KZ intentionally caused or incited others to provide sexual services, for financial gain
Sexual Offences Act 2003 s.53	Controlling prostitution for gain — KZ controlled the financial activities of OM's prostitution enterprise in expectation of gain
Modern Slavery Act 2015 s.2	Arranging/facilitating travel for sexual exploitation — cross-border movement of individuals between UAE, Portugal, UK and elsewhere
Serious Crime Act 2007 ss.44-46	Encouraging or assisting — KZ's facilitation of the entire financial infrastructure of the enterprise

3.3 Money Laundering Offences

Provision	Offence
POCA 2002 s.327	Concealing criminal property — KZ concealed the origin of prostitution proceeds by converting fiat to cryptocurrency
POCA 2002 s.328	Arrangement offence — KZ arranged the laundering of OM's proceeds through UK bank accounts, cryptocurrency wallets, and cross-border transfers
POCA 2002 s.329	Acquisition, use or possession — use of criminal property within the UK financial system
POCA 2002 s.330	Failure to disclose (regulated sector) — KZ is FCA-authorized (SMF1 Chief Executive; SMF3 Executive Director; FCA ref: KXZ01023) through his regulated firm. His knowledge of money laundering and failure to disclose is a criminal offence within the regulated sector
Money Laundering Regulations 2017	Reporting obligations breached by KZ's FCA-regulated firm in relation to the laundering activity

3.4 Structuring / Smurfing

In November 2020, OM explicitly instructed KZ to transfer her funds to Portugal in £10,000 transactions, 'using the service from the UAE.' This is a textbook structuring instruction — deliberately breaking transfers into sub-threshold amounts to evade reporting obligations. KZ admitted to the Referrer that OM had asked him to transfer the funds 'little by little until all were clear.' KZ confirmed the funds originated from illicit activities in the Middle East.

KZ also told the couple's daughter (then aged 12) that OM would reimburse him from funds he held for her which 'she could not use because of how she had earned them.' This is an admission to a child that the funds were criminally derived.

3.5 US Parallel Investigation

The IRS Criminal Investigations Division (IRS:CI), Cyber Investigations Unit, New York Field Office, has confirmed an active ongoing investigation into KZ's money laundering of prostitution proceeds using cryptocurrency. In December 2023, IRS:CI confirmed receipt of documents and requested a call to discuss. The IRS:CI investigation is live and ongoing as at the date of this referral.

The Referrer respectfully invites MPS and NCA to liaise directly with IRS:CI and with the investigating officer, details of which are available to police upon request.

PART 4 — GL: THIRD-PARTY BTC TRANSFERS APPEARING IN KZ'S BOOKS

4.1 Who GL Is

GL is an individual whose initials appear in Criminal Referral Part 3 (CR-3, 17 pages, redacted). GL's full identity is not known to the Referrer. No personal identifiers are available to provide at this stage. The identification of GL is a direct investigative task for police.

4.2 What the BTC Transfer Records Show

The bookkeeping records managed by KZ — records held on or derived from the Devices — contain entries showing BTC transfers from GL to OM. These transfers appear in the financial accounts of the prostitution enterprise that KZ maintained.

The significance of this is as follows:

- GL was sending BTC directly to OM through channels recorded in KZ's books.
- KZ was aware of and recording GL's transfers — they appear within the accounts he managed.
- The transfers from GL to OM are therefore part of the broader money-laundering and prostitution-proceeds infrastructure that KZ administered.
- GL may be: a client making payments; a co-conspirator layering funds; or another individual involved in the financial structure of the enterprise. The investigation of the underlying transactions will establish this.

4.3 Legal Framework for GL

Depending on GL's role and knowledge, the following offences may be engaged:

Provision	Potential Offence
POCA 2002 s.328	Arrangement offence (if GL knowingly arranged transfers of criminal property)
POCA 2002 s.329	Acquisition, use or possession of criminal property
Sexual Offences Act 2003 s.53	If GL's payments constituted controlling prostitution for gain
Serious Crime Act 2007 ss.44-46	Encouraging or assisting

INVESTIGATIVE REQUEST 4 — IDENTIFY GL AND TRACE GL'S BTC TRANSFERS Identify the individual referred to as GL from the BTC transfer records appearing in CR-3 and in the bookkeeping data on or derived from the Devices. Trace all BTC transfers from GL to OM appearing in KZ's accounts. Investigate the nature of GL's relationship with OM and KZ. Consider whether GL's transfers constitute payment for sexual services, money-laundering, or both. Obtain blockchain analysis of the relevant wallet addresses to trace the origin and destination of all funds.

PART 5 — FORTE SECURITIES WALLET DISPUTE: 80.25 BTC

5.1 The Dispute

A BTC wallet (identifier: 3DAGT) containing 80.25 BTC (approximate value USD 786,901 at the relevant time) is the subject of a disputed ownership claim. Two separate parties claimed ownership of the same wallet:

- OM — claimed in an October 2022 letter that wallet 3DAGT was hers.
- A third party associated with Forte Securities — separately claimed the same wallet was a Forte Securities wallet.

KZ admitted in evidence that OM provided her ownership statement 'because he had asked her to.' Two parties claimed the same wallet, three years apart, in circumstances where KZ solicited one of those claims.

The trial judge noted the dispute at trial but made no finding on it.

INVESTIGATIVE REQUEST 5 — WALLET 3DAGT AND FORTE SECURITIES Investigate the beneficial ownership of BTC wallet 3DAGT. Obtain full transaction history for wallet 3DAGT and trace all inflows and outflows. Investigate Forte Securities' connection to KZ and to the cryptocurrency structures used to launder prostitution proceeds. Investigate the circumstances in which OM's ownership letter was produced at KZ's request and assess whether this constitutes evidence of a conspiracy to obstruct.

PART 6 — CRIMINAL EVIDENCE TRANSMISSION HISTORY AND ADMINISTRATIVE FAILURES

6.1 Three Formal Transmissions — All Ignored

The criminal evidence was formally transmitted to responsible authorities on at least three occasions. On each occasion, no logging, acknowledgment, escalation, or safeguarding action was taken:

Date	Recipient	Outcome
8 February 2024	Single Joint Expert (SJE)	Priority: High. No action taken.

	appointed by the High Court
11 April 2024	Secretary of State for Justice, MoJ, HMCTS, Lord Chancellor	Not logged, not acknowledged, not escalated.
12 May 2025	Court of Appeal, House of Lords, Parliament, Cabinet, MoJ, HMCTS	Not logged, not acknowledged, not escalated.

6.2 PAP Letter — No Response

On 19 November 2025, a formal Pre-Action Protocol letter for Judicial Review was sent to the Secretary of State for Justice, the Permanent Secretary of MoJ, and the CEO of HMCTS, requiring a substantive response by 16:00 on 24 November 2025. No response was received from any defendant. Judicial Review proceedings were issued: AC-2025-LON-004293.

6.3 HMCTS Misclassification

On 14 November 2025, HMCTS wrote claiming that the safeguarding complaints and related issues were 'judicial matters' it could not investigate. This classification is wrong. No judicial act was ever made regarding the Devices. The failure to safeguard criminal evidence and maintain chain of custody is purely administrative. The JR proceedings (AC-2025-LON-004293) challenged this misclassification. Permission was refused on 11 March 2026 with a TWM designation. That refusal does not affect the police referral or the criminal evidence safeguarding failures addressed in this annex, which are independent of the JR outcome.

PART 7 — CONSOLIDATED INVESTIGATIVE REQUESTS

The Referrer respectfully requests that investigating officers take the following steps:

A. Locate and Secure the Devices

- Immediately locate the MacBook Pro and Ubuntu computer that were placed in Imerman escrow on 16 April 2021.
- Secure both Devices and prevent any further access, alteration, or disposal.
- Commence a full forensic examination of both Devices by a qualified digital forensics expert, preserving all metadata, deleted files, and encrypted partitions.
- Request a full account from HFC of the custody, handling, access, movement, and current whereabouts of both Devices from April 2021 to the present day.

B. Investigate the Tampering Attempt

- Investigate the 25 February 2022 letter and the false representations made therein about the Ubuntu device's contents.

- Consider whether this constitutes an attempt to interfere with criminal evidence contrary to the Criminal Justice and Courts Act 2015 or the common law.

C. Investigate KZ's Criminal Conduct

- Investigate KZ's role as financial architect, bookkeeper, and money-laundering facilitator of OM's prostitution enterprise from at least 2018.
- Trace all relevant BTC wallet addresses and cryptocurrency transactions, including the Molina Cluster (1AWKgdMEwDjHxL3WcaoijvmnH5LXkTA3zw).
- Investigate the use of KZ's FCA-regulated firm in the laundering chain and his failure to make required disclosures under POCA 2002 s.330 and the Money Laundering Regulations 2017.
- Liaise with IRS:CI (New York Field Office) regarding their active parallel investigation, details available on request.

D. Identify GL and Trace GL's BTC Transfers

- Identify the individual referred to as GL from the BTC transfer records in the bookkeeping data.
- Trace all BTC transfers from GL to OM and investigate the nature of GL's involvement in the enterprise.

E. Investigate Forte Securities Wallet 3DAGT

- Investigate the beneficial ownership of BTC wallet 3DAGT (80.25 BTC).
- Trace all inflows and outflows and obtain full transaction history.

F. Coordinate with Ongoing Proceedings

- Note that the Devices and the criminal evidence they contain are the subject of Judicial Review proceedings: AC-2025-LON-004293 (Administrative Court, permission stage). Any police action should be coordinated with the preservation orders sought in those proceedings.
- Note that the underlying family proceedings are BV20D01752 (High Court, Family Division) and that the criminal evidence was placed before that court but not acted upon.
